

WEDNESDAY SEMINARS

Summer Semester 2025

Wednesday, 5 p.m. | Übungsraum (and online)

IKSA, NIG, Universitätsstraße 7, 1010 Wien, 4. Stock

The Wednesday Seminars are a regular lecture series of the Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology.

Every Wednesday during the semester, current research as well as controversial and relevant questions from within the discipline and the general public are picked out and examined in expert talks.

The lecture series is open to contributions from within the wider discipline of anthropology and beyond. The talks serve as impulses for an intellectual exchange between the presenter and the audience.

The Wednesday Seminars are a forum that introduces our guests (guest professors and visiting scholars) and encourages resident researchers to present their current work to the scholarly community.

Current and past topics of the Wednesday Seminars can be found here: <https://ksa.univie.ac.at/institut/veranstaltungen/wednesday-seminar/>
Suggestions for presentations can be sent to: hannavietze@univie.ac.at

Hybrid event,
join online!

26.03.2025 (HS-A!)  joint event with Department of Sociology ***
Vincent Dubois

Surveillance and Sanctions over Recipients:
A Coercive Turn In Social Welfare

02.04.2025

Elissa Helms

Humanitarianism, Citizenship, or Solidarity?
Bosnian Border Residents' Surreptitious Aid to Illegalized
Migrants Along the Balkan Route to the EU

09.04.2025

Mathijs Pelkmans

Retrofitting Graves on the Georgian-Turkish Border

30.04.2025

Working Group Against Intersectional Discrimination and Racism
tba

28. 05.2025

Anna-Marie Walter

Living with Ice: Between Engineering and Vitality.
Perspectives from the Alps and the Himalayas

11.06.2025

Andreas Streinzer

Uncanny Recursions: Re-Becoming Other in Crisis Capitalism

25.06.2025

Sharryn Kasmir

tba
